

Short biography Marion Debus

Born in 1968; Waldorf School in Stuttgart, Germany. After leaving school, one year of special needs education training at the Camphill Rudolf Steiner Schools in Aberdeen, UK. Studied medicine in Bochum, Germany, specialist training in internal medicine at Öschelbronn Hospital near Pforzheim, Germany, at the Princess of Wales Hospital, Bridgend in the UK, and at the Havelhöhe Community Hospital, Berlin, Germany. Specialisation in haematology/oncology at the Robert Bosch Hospital, Stuttgart, Germany. From 2005 to 2017, senior physician in the oncology department of the Havelhöhe Community Hospital, Berlin, with a large outpatient and day clinic area. Head of the oncology department at Klinik Arlesheim, Switzerland, since 2017.

Since September 2023 co-leader of the Medical Section at the Goetheanum in Dornach, Switzerland.

Board member of the Society of Anthroposophic Physicians, Germany. Editorial member of Merkurstab and the Vademecum of Anthroposophic Medicines. Co-director of the Havelhöhe Medical Seminar, Berlin, Germany. Lecturing and teaching activity at home and abroad with a focus on anthroposophic oncology.